

Beautiful, Beautiful Rainforest

Beautiful, beautiful rainforest. Oh, how I love the rainforest!

I hear birds singing softly a sweet and gentle lullaby.

And water falling from cliffs, making the rocks twinkle and shimmer.

I hear apes chant from far away, and big alligator tears falling from the sky making the ground soft and squishy.

I hear and see leaves rustling and fighting while a beautiful pink flower opens it's glamorous shell to see the humid and humongous rainforest.

I see a snake slither through the cold and wet grass.

Rumble, whisper, snap, squeak.

Beautiful, Beautiful rainforest.
